April 18, 2013

2013 Design Awards

Attention California architects! It is time again to recognize the very best architecture in California for the 2013 AIACC Design Awards. Awards will be conferred in five categories: Architecture, Interior Architecture, Urban Design, Small Projects and Sustainable Design. Click here to register.

Project Delivery Methods: New 5-Part Online Series Available

The dynamic nature of project delivery has changed our collective view; the design and construction industry is rapidly evolving

Providing Architects Another Tool to Protect Instruments of Service

The AIACC is sponsoring legislation this year, AB 630 (Assembly Member Chris Holden, D - Pasadena), to clearly state in California law
Visit the New AIACC.org and Register to Win Free Registration to MDC!

With improvements to the navigational structure, enhanced search functions, increased opportunities for interaction, simplified member log-in, and better content, we want you to see all we’ve done! Click on any of the posts below...leave a comment...and you’re automatically entered to win... . . . Read more

“But I Still Think It’s Ugly”: Explaining Architecture to Non-Architects

This is the first in a series of articles, intended to help us better explain architecture to non-architects, with the goal of increasing their appreciation of the buildings that give us such joy and wonder and satisfaction. We want people to like the buildings we design, because, speaking candidly, we want them to ask us to design more of them... .Read more

Upcoming Events

California Custom Housing Architects to Meet at PCBC in San Diego

June 4, 2013 - 12:00-4:00 pm
San Diego Convention Center

One of the most valuable benefits of AIA membership is the ability to network with peers. While this occurs at the local level and virtually through the National AIA Knowledge Communities, members have been asking for a way to connect on issues of statewide concern. Read more

Funding and Financing of Maintenance and Public Infrastructure

April 25, 2013 with UCLA Extension Programs

California Debt and Investment Advisory Committee (CDIAC) provides training in public financing. Read more

Most Viewed Content on AIACC.org

Continuing Education
Professional Resources