California Supreme Court Rules Against SOM

Last week, the California Supreme Court ruled on the case Beacon v. SOM. The AIACC was closely involved and has reports on what this means for the profession.  Read more . . .
Post AIA National Convention

This event may be less about continuing education and production representatives and more about connecting to the architecture community. Mike Novak, AIA, was on location as a guest correspondent and has more.

Read more . . .

Serraino on Olsen

For your reading pleasure, may we present an independent news site which features modern architecture. Read more . . .

---

ADVERTISEMENT

Nominate your project for a Wood Design Award
> DEADLINE: SEPTEMBER 30, 2014

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON Mahlum Architects
photo: Benjamin Benschneider

---

AIACC New Group Feature on Linkedin

The AIACC has a new group feature on LinkedIn and we are waiting to hear from you. Any questions about upcoming events, issues within the profession, design philosophies and quandaries? This is the place. Join the group and start a conversation now.

---

New Regulations to New Hire Pamphlet

Any firm owner needs to be aware of new changes effective Jul. 1, 2014. If you haven't already received notification from Risk Strategies Management as to how this affects you, we have all the links on our website within this posting. For more information click here