Fear Mongers; Beacon vs. COM It's Not the End of the World as We Know It:

Many architects are concerned, and rightly so. However, we are here to report that there may not be reason for it. Kurt Cooknick, Assoc. AIA along with representatives from Collins, Collins, Muir & Stewart, recently visited AIA East Bay to put some fears to rest. Read more . . .

Great News for the State of the Profession

NCARB posted their results from a recent survey and the numbers are quite positive.
It's news we are happy to share.

Can a Turkey be a Protruding Object

Protruding objects, holiday meals and continuing education units are all related. If you haven't already, register now and save yourself time and stress. Why not take the long weekend if you have one, to satisfy some of those continuing education units?

We also wanted to take a few moments and space on this newsletter to thank our 2014 AIACC Design Award and Now Next Future sponsors. Sponsors, as many are aware, are an integral part of the success of any event, and ours are no different. A thousand thank-yous go out to the following:
myTrends and AIACC: So Happy Together

AIACC and myTrends are teaming up to bring you an incredible little gift. Hint, it has to do with ebooks and residential design award winners. Stay tuned and check your cyber mail boxes next week.
